February, the twenty second, marks the birth of the dearest American, George Washington. Though always a man of action he proved as able a statesman as a military leader. As a general he ranks with Alexander, Julius Ceaser and Napoleon. As a statesman he ranks with Jefferson, Franklin and both the Pitts.

Without his military leadership there would probally have been no United States. Without his common sence to curb his officers enthusiasm this country would have been a monarchy.

There is no use saying more as everything conceivable has been written by more able writers.

Most everyone enjoys music in some manner or another, and the boys in camp are no exception. This camp is particularly fortunate in the talent it possesses. With the arrival of the piano and the purchase of strings for the violin and guitars any one with talent may have a chance to exercise it.

With the facilities now available, a first class string band could be organized. There are several boys in camp who know music, and if they will take others in hand and try to help them, the first step in creating an orchestra would be completed. Practice and experience will help to round out their timing and rythmn.

The entertainment this evening will give the boys achance to show what they can do. If it is successful it will become a periodical affair and will be more elaborate with each performance.

Some person in this camp is taking it upon himself to criticize food that is being served in the mess hall. Pictures have been posted and such disrespectful little things that do nothing but get the party or parties in trouble. If you had better food at home that is where you belong right now. The CCC is for young men that appreciate and want to make themselves useful to their parents. Hardships come and go all through life. If the food is not to your liking just try to learn to eat it, for it is the most wholesome food that a person can ever hope to eat.

Let's stop the foolish activities and t y to get along without all criticizisms. You will in time find that if you do friends will not be hard to find, and life will hold more pleasure for all concerned.

CHURCH SERVICES

Devotional Services were held in the Recreation Hall, Sunday. They were conducted by the Young Peoples Branch of the First Presbyterian Church of Sarasota. The subject was "Redemption and Sin".

Miss Vivian Bowman was leader of the program. Her helpers were, Miss Elizabeth McClelen, Miss Daisy Burt and Vincent Bowman.

A trio composed of Marion McClelen, Ernestine Foulke and Vivian Bowman accompanied by Miss Alice Prince sang a selection. Two Hymns selected by the boys were also sung.

At the conclusion of the program Mrs. M. McClelen thanked the boys for their attention and said the group would be glad to return if invited.

She also invited the enrollees to attend the co-educational Sunday School at the church, nine thirty, A.M. and the Young People's meeting at the manse, six thirty in the evening.

BARRACK FOUR TAKES PRIZE

Barrack Four took the lead and banner away from two in last week's competition, with a string of Es and only one G. Two was not far behind with no mark under G.

Barrack Four also had the honor of being the barrack chosen to be photographed last Friday.

DANCE

Getting away to an early start and lasting until late in the morning, the dance last Friday night was a very successful affair. The crowd was quite large and several new faces were seen.

Most of the boys had dates arranged before time and hardly any were left waiting. The same orchestra was engaged and played as well as usual.

For the first time outsiders, who came as stags, paid admission, and the proceeds from these helped to defray expenses. The floor was better than usual, and as the floor was roped off, the dancers had more room.

Several girls who received quite a rush were; Louella Daugherty, Inez Morrison, Elaine Spanos, Mildred Starling, Ritchie Van Der Solm, Louis McCall, Helen Hand, Margaret Moore, Bo Taylor, and many other girls whose names could not be learned because of the size of their escorts.

POPEYE AND ART

Popeye says, "I yam what I yam and that is all I yam." He's not lying. We are what we are and not what we would be.

Chance often deserves much of the glory when we make an attempt to win. Bernard Weyer tramped through the Shenandoah Valley more than one hundred years ago. He depended on his hunting for his "canteen checks." He saw a ground hog jump into its hole on the mountain side. Necessity made him dig it out. The loose dirt offered little resistance; it soon caved in and behold-- the Grand Caverns of Virginia unfolded.

Consider Purvis De Chavanne, (Pu-vees-de-Sha-van) who was the greatest mural painter France ever coughed up. At the age of twenty he entered a Polytechnic school to study Mining Engineering. A serious illness knocked Doodley stuff out of his plans and he "hit out" for Italy. Well sir, no one can visit without feeling the influence of Italian art. Before he returned he decided to become a painter. He did.

He studied under Eugene Delacroix for but fifteen days. But later in life when De Chavanne would get the "blues" he would remember that he once studied under the great Delacroix and his con-

BOYS WILL BE BOYS.

All I know is that I hear in the mess hall.

The boys in the mess hall had quiet a discussing about Rinker's secret of fishing.

On close observation I find he uses two methods. First: he takes a boat and several tools.

He rows out to the fishing hole. First he nails the boat to the water, then he bores a hole in the water, lays the bate on the hole. When the fish comes up through the hole he hit him on the head, dips him up and puts him in the boat.

Another method he uses is, he takes Billy with him to the river and ties a short fishing line to Billie's tail and baits hook, then he crosses the river. Of course Billie has to follow.

NEW RECORD

BASEBALL

The biggest trout taken from the Myakka River was caught by Earl Rinker the first aid man, last week. The fish weighed six pounds, thirteen ounces, exceeding the weight of the former record by exactly one pound. The record previously was held by Rodney Willis.

Most of the boys, who have been fishing the river lately have seldom returned anti-handed. The two thousand frog plug is about the best bait to use now.

Seargent Pendorf

Seargent Pendorf, district mess seargent, is in camp for a stay of ten days. He will report on the conditions of the kitchen and mess hall before leaving for another camp.

Several boys are acquainted with Seargaht Pendorf, as he was mess seargent at Fort. Screven when they received their preliminary training.

Florida is already to welcome the coming of the Major League clubs. This company will be in close proximity of several big teams. The Red Sox at Sarasota with such stars as "Lefty" Grove, Wes and Rick Ferrel and Joe Cronin, who managed Washington last year.

Bradenton will play host to the world champion Cardinals. The Red Birds have with them the incomparable Dean boys, Frankie Frish and Joe Medwick.

At Tampa, Cincinnati will past-time with "Chick" Hefey. The Yankees at St. Petersburg, will have Lou Gehrig, Bill Dickey and "Lefty Gomez. From all indications, the "Babe" will see most of his action as a pinch hitter.

RAIN

All the camp athletics this week can be summed up in the one word, rain. If any motion picture company decides to refilm the play "Rain", the camp can recommend the Myakka Valley unreservedly.

It seems that Mr. Dennard and Carter were doing a little work the other day rather, Carter was working and Benny was bossing.

The lieutenant from Sulphur Springs came up and said, "Are you the supply sergeant?"

Benny Blushing modestly, replied, "Erump--I-erump-AM THE -er erump THE FIRST SERGEANT."

TO EARL GONZALEZ

"Are you the Mistress of the house?"

"No sir, I am the chamber maid."

Mr. Grinnitt is all set to offer his services as a dancing instructor. It seems that the exhibition he gave Friday, was sensational.

Senor Pla, the eminent sign painter, had a date in Sarasota. However he forgot to bring a bottle with a nipple.

"Who is it who says" all he knows is what hears in the mess-hall; --BAH? and what he reads in Liberty.

Mr. Morton, assistant to the first aid, complains that he lost his chair and office. We wonder if he has anything else to lose.

We hear that Eddie Gonzalez was sort of down cast last Saturday night. It seems that she done him wrong. Eh! Eddie?

The German has reached the height of his ambition. He has finally made regular K.P.

It seems that Sanders is the new champion. Frisky and Palooka have given up the competition.

Godwin is getting worse than (Big game hunter) Chicken he made up Benny's bunk today.

It seems that there is one party that won't break at the dance. And do the boys burn up.

Who is the beautiful brunette which our highly respected truck driver Mr. Donaldson escorted home to Fruitville last Friday night.

Paul has been taking trips to Tampa quite often. ?? We wonder what attracts him around the laundry.

Woman you're lying: Shugars.

It seems that Ben Richardson got rid of his bracelet mighty soon. Who's the lucky Miss.

Box Car was asked if he was high at the celebration Friday nite; he said he was in low gear since the dance started. Babe Clayton seems to be hungry always. He had his issue fork, at the dance.

We wonder what happened to the sense of direction of our air-minded Vasquez, last Friday nite? He claimed that his rudder was on the blink or was he out of gas?

Weaver said he couldn't dance in his shoes. We wonder if that was the real reason?

Now that the secret of Kelly's technique of how he got home is to be known, we wonder if Wop the Wop will accompany him?

Bill Williams says: "If my foot keeps on like this, I'm going to be afraid to die, as I don't know how I'm gonna kick the bucket without it hurting me!" Some men think lots of their feet.

A MINOR TRADGETY

It seemsthatone day, Shampoo, the Casanova of the camp, took a walk in Sarasota, accompanied by four young ladies. Soon up comes another lotherio, Mr. E.V. Hall, who relieves Shampoo of two of his companions. Then Mercer Conway hove into view and took the other two maidens. Shampoo walked on.

"Red" Blackburn seems to think himself a real fighter. Look out when the barrack's competition is started. Better men than you have bit the dust.

Posey seems to think he is the ladies' man, but he runs out every time we have a dance. We wonder why.

Since Cherry Lips directed the signing of the payroll he seems to have added four inches to his manly chest.

Hearing of the "Free Press" Hinely went to town and walked about all the day with a pair of pants under his arm.
